

Buffalo Creek- Purgatory Mountain Wildlife Corridor

The Buffalo Creek - Purgatory Mountain Wildlife Corridor is located in the counties of Rockbridge and Botetourt.

This corridor aims to the two iconic mountain ranges framing the Shenandoah Valley - The Allegheny mountains to the west and the Blue Ridge Mountains to the East.

Within this corridor are three key locations for wildlife passage under I-81. In these locations, animals can safely pass under the Interstate following three key waterways that flow under the highway.
